INTRODUCTION

This collection of readings is meant to serve as a quick reference for diplomats, especially those who are participating in career-related training programmes as well as in tailor-made courses at the Centre for Education and Training, Indonesian Ministry of Foreign Affairs. It itemizes the readings under topics that are deemed relevant to the training and courses.

Some readings in the collection are required. They are essential for the development of diplomat's knowledge, skills and attitude competencies. Some others are more elective. Those mandatory readings discuss basic concepts and principles, on which diplomats are supposed to have a good grip.

It is also our hope that the readings will help diplomats enhance their intellectual resilience.

The list is annually updated. New topics under which the readings are catalogued will be added as required.
